

Joshua: Son of Nun

Jan.9, 2021

Joshua 1:1-9

This Sunday we began our new series in the book of Joshua: Promises Have Consequences. After wandering in the wilderness for forty years, the people of Israel step into the promises and inheritance that God had prepared for them. God's faithfulness shines through in the book of Joshua; and the promises God makes are always for our flourishing.

Getting Started

We talked about beginnings on Sunday. How do you respond when you're at the cusp of something new? Exciting? Scary? Overwhelming for you? Give an example if you can!

Read

Joshua 1:1-9

Digging Deeper

- From the text above, God essentially says, "You go; I'll give." What stands out to you about that? Are there any promises that God has made to you that you need to go on so that God can give them to you?
- God's message in this passage is clear: Be strong and courageous (because of God's presence). Is there any area in your life that God is asking for courage from you?
- The book of Joshua is all about God's faithfulness and how we respond to that faithfulness. How is it difficult for you to have faith and trust in God's faithfulness? Is there an area of your life that this consistently creates tension?
