2 Samuel 11-12

On Sunday we continued our series Victories & Valleys: a study in the life of David. In 2 Samuel 11 we read the deepest darkest moment in the life of David. It's a moment that, if we let it, can serve as a mirror to our brokenness and desperate need for God's grace.

Digging Deeper

- The text above is a famous one. What assumptions or pre-conceived ideas and feelings did you carry into Sunday's message. How did they interact with the unpacking of the text?
- Austin walked through the Bible's history and pattern of "taking" that David continues. David story is humanity's story. David's story is our story. What in your life resonated with this message? Is there anything that was challenging about this for you?
- God spared David's life and took his sin away. How did you sense God speaking to you through the text? Were you urged to confess and repent of any sin in your life? Maybe you sensed a need to extend forgiveness to others around you? Or something else? Share with your group.
