

Art of Relationships: Families

May 28, 2023

Your home is the canvas that your kids form their view of God. Deuteronomy 6:5-9 guides us in how to do that through our habits and routines. There are things we can do as parents as we are going about our day to point them to Jesus and be formed into his likeness. But it must start with parents, allowing God to form us first.

Getting Started

Adam started off having kids draw a picture of God. If you were to have drawn your picture of God when you were younger, what would it have looked like? Why?

Digging Deeper

1. What are the good and not so good habits of your home? How are those habits forming your family?
2. Adam mentioned quote from a book called Habits of the Househole of the authors prayer outside his children's room that said, "God please parent me so I can parent them." How does this prayer hit you?
3. What is one thing you want to add into your routines and one thing you want to take away?
4. Spend some time sharing prayer requests and praying over the parents and children in your small group.
