Joshua 1:10-17

This Sunday we continued our new series in the book of Joshua: Promises Have Consequences. When you hear the question "Who helped you find and follow Jesus" what faces pop into your mind? These people invariably sacrificed their time, energy and resources so you could experience what they had. This is what three of the tribes did in Joshua and there is a lesson in this seemingly insignificant story for us.

Getting Started

What is one regret you have... something you said no to but wish you had said yes to?

Digging Deeper

- From the text above, some of these tribe chose to move out of their comfort zone in order to help others. On Sunday Toran said that, "the longer that you've known Jesus, the easier it is to get complacent." Has this been the case for you? If so, how?
- What is your mission on behalf of this family (TLC)? Discuss as a group your reflections on your Passion, Pain and Proficiency activity? Help speak into each other's reflections if possible.
 - Passion—what brings you energy and joy?
 - Pain—what would you get rid of in the world? What makes you angry?
 - Proficiency—what are you naturally good at?
- What is your contribution on behalf of this family (TLC)? We each have some things that we need to help with in order for our mission(s) to be accomplished? Is there something you sense God is challenging you to be a part of?
