

Joshua: A Tale of Two Cities Part 1

Feb. 13, 2021

Joshua 6

Joshua and the battle of Jericho is one of THE moments in the book of Joshua. God's faithfulness shines through as the first piece of the promised land is given to the Israelites. Rather than some military strategy, Israel's battle task was obedience. This powerful narrative offers us an invitation to follow that obedience in the battles of our own lives.

Getting Started

What's something that in your mind seemed like a WAY bigger deal than it actually was? A sporting event? A passed/failed test? A conversation with your friend/parent/spouse?

Digging Deeper

- The "Battle of Jericho" is a popular story. Was there anything new that stood out to you hearing it this time? How did God speak to you through God's word today?
- The Israelites battle task was obedience. In the battle of Jericho, we see some of the ways that Joshua had to obey God and trust his own judgement. What are some ways that you need to obey God in the different battles of your own life?
- In the life of Rahab we see a picture of rescue and preservation in the midst of a destructive battle. What are some faith-in-action steps that we can take to live a life of rescue and restoration with God instead of a life of soul-ache and heart-ache without God?
